

INTRODUCTION

The Galleria at Roseville is a shopping center, but . . .

it may become a flea market . . .

if the Third District's opinion — that a shopping center's time, place, and manner rules cannot distinguish between commercial and non-commercial speech — is allowed to stand.